Elizabeth Derouet

Liaison Librarian at University of Southern Queensland

Liz is a qualified teacher-librarian with a Masters degree in Children's literature. She specialises in all areas of literature for children and teens and has studied and reviewed children's and young adult (YA) literature for almost 20 years. In 2019, Liz was awarded Teacher Librarian of the year by QSLA for her work in reading promotion and advocacy of the teacher librarian profession. Liz has worked as lecturer at University of Southern Queensland and most recently at Charles Sturt University lecturing in teacher librarianship. She currently works as a Liaison Librarian at the University of Southern Queensland.

In this session Liz will share successful ideas for reading promotion with students across the year levels.

This session is suitable for primary and secondary teacher librarians and library staff.

This PD addresses the following AITSL Professional Standards for Teachers:
